

My Silver Award

I enjoy being a Scout. We have so many awards that we have to work hard for. For my Silver Award, I repainted my church kitchen. That was a year ago, yet I still remember all the hard work I had to go through.

I remember spending hours on the computer, typing up my report, trying to make it perfect. I was quite surprised how long it took to plan the project. This project showed my independence and helped me overcome my shyness. I remember calling Lowe's, Vons, and Papa John's who offered to aid my project. Implementation week felt very long and stressful, since we tried to determine what to coordinate and finish my goals in a timely manner.

I learned from the project in order to become a leader, I cannot be shy. I must be strong and know how to lead people.
