

My Gold Award

My Gold Award project was named Project Wrap Them in Love, which was conducted at my residence for three weeks in November of 2008. The goal of my project was to sew together two quilts (one for an infant and one for an older child) with the reuse of old clothes and various other donated cloth materials for underprivileged children and/or abused children; also, it was my responsibility to teach my volunteers how to use a sewing machine, as well as guide them through the process of sewing quilts. Moreover, I closely worked with The Kids Who Care Club, which was the organization that ultimately shipped the two quilts to two deserving children.

Achieving my Gold Award and completing Project Wrap Them in Love was definitely a rewarding experience and it is an accomplishment I know I will cherish for the rest of my life. I was able to prove to myself and others that I am capable in my leadership, communication, organization, and cooperation skills—all of which are significant assets to have throughout life in general. Also, in achieving my Gold Award I feel that I have grown as a person in terms of accomplishing something that I would have only dreamed of doing when I was younger and terribly shy. It is a great honor to have left a positive imprint on the community and to currently serve as a role model for other Girl Scouts after earning my Gold Award.
